Peter Jackson - A Voice for Mandurah

I'm Peter Jackson, a local radio broadcaster, high school teacher, father of five, proud grandfather of seven, and a passionate advocate for our incredible city.

With over 40 years in media, including 2 decades right here in Mandurah with West Coast Radio (6MM and The Wave) and almost 10 years spent simultaneously teaching in local high schools, I've had the privilege of connecting with our community across generations. My long-standing involvement in education, media, and faith-based community work has given me deep insight into the challenges and opportunities facing Mandurah families and young people.

As your elected representative, I've proudly served as Chair of the Audit and Risk Committee, worked on the Mandurah Liquor Advisory group, contributed to many City Strategy and Planning committees, sat on a local college board, and completed training with the Australian Institute of Company Directors. I take the trust our community places in me seriously and consider it a true honour to serve.

Mandurah is a city rich in natural beauty, full of passionate people, and well on track for a very bright future. I'm committed to ensuring our city continues to grow in a sustainable, thoughtful way. That means backing policies and projects that support local families, create opportunities for our youth, and protect the environment we all value.

I believe in leadership with integrity, and I know that real progress happens when the whole community is part of the conversation. Together, we can continue building a Mandurah that is vibrant, inclusive, and full of promise for generations to come.
