Leadership is about collaboration and working together.

As the father of four children and husband of a doctor. I understand that collaboration is the key to success. There is always a solution if you have care and cooperation with your stakeholders.

As an Environmental Engineer I am helping to build Western Australia's critical infrastructure.

Joining council is a way to create a better city for our children and their future. Creating an affordable city with plenty of opportunity.

Since embracing civic duties as a member of the Cities Environment Advisory Board and being elected Chairman of the Mandurah Environment and Heritage group, it's been an honour to serve our community.

I know Mandurah, I know the issues. From Crime and antisocial behaviour to beach erosion and coastal infrastructure. Homelessness and cost of living, to hospitals and retirement. You need a councillor who will understand and campaign for your needs.
